Disappearing Land

In Monterey on the beautiful bay
That is ringed by ancient sand
There are tall tall walls
There are natural walls
Made of disappearing land

The life they live
The sand they give
To the beach spreading far below
With each new storm
More sand is torn
And the sea marches landward ho

The life they live
The sand they give
To the ring made of ancient sand
There are tall tall walls
There are natural walls
Made of disappearing land
